

The Caribbean Studies Student Union is comprised of every student enrolled in a Caribbean Studies course. CARSSU supports these students by creating a space where they can come to share their life experiences, to discuss the implications of the themes they learn in the classroom, and to apply their skills and talents.

CARSSU works closely with the Caribbean Studies department, its faculty and its professors to ensure that the program continues to grow. By hosting engaging events we hope to reaffirm the Caribbean Studies program as a vibrant and important part of the academic discourse. Each event is an opportunity to educate someone about the importance of the Caribbean in global history and politics. Each social is a chance to gain new found friends.

Executive Team 2013-2014

Leslie-Ann Fullerton: Co-President
Chantal McFarlane: Co-President
Samra Hasnain: Internal Affairs
Melissa Sobers: Internal Affairs
Tammy Williams: External Affairs
Candi Chin-Sang: Technical Director
Crystal-Gyal Palmer: Event Coordinator
Tiy Cross-Lovelace: ASSU representative
Katharine Ball: Academic Advisor
Nasha Mavalvala: Executive at Large
Nubia Merriman: Executive at Large
Debbie McKenzie: Executive at Large
Benjamin Drape: Executive at Large