MTLA

THE MICROPUBLISHERS' TRADE LIST ANNUAL

The Micropublishers' Trade List Annual (MTLA) offers on microfiche the annual catalogs of approximately 200 micropublishers from the United States and abroad. The micropublishers represented in MTLA are those listed in Microform Market Place 1974-1975 as well as micropublishers that have been established since June 1974. For the first time, librarians will have a complete file of micropublishers' catalogs in a compact format. MTLA eliminates the problems of collecting random-sized catalogs and brochures. MTLA, in conjunction with Guide to Microforms in Print and International Microforms in Print, provides the user with additional information about specific micropublications, including the publisher's ordering instructions. The MTLA printed index offers direct access to that fiche which contains a particular micropublisher's catalog. MTLA is housed in a durable three-ring binder. The microfiche are inserted in protective panels that are designed to fit into the binder along with the printed index. An MTLA supplement will also be offered on microfiche between annual issues.

Availability and Pricing Information

The Micropublishers' Trade List Annual will be published in May. An MTLA supplement will be distributed each December with a new index. The microfiche, binder, index, and supplement are offered at $80 ($65 if ordered by May 1, 1975). A discount is available for multiple copies billed and shipped to same address (see order form).

Microfiche Facts: 105mm x 148mm (approximately 4" x 6") silver halide microfiche prepared to conform with National Microfilm Association standards for archival quality, positive, 20:1 reduction ratio. Approximately 60 microfiche will be included.

The Micropublishers' Trade List Annual comes with this durable three-ring binder, two microfiche panels, and a printed index. This storage arrangement eliminates the bother of storing the microfiche and index separately. A replacement index is shipped with the supplemental microfiche each December.

At last, one source of subject access to 20

CUMULATIVE MONTHLY

This new fifteen volume single-alphabet index set is the largest and most comprehensive subject index to U.S. Government publications ever produced.

It can be purchased either by itself, or as the key component of our
U.S. MONTHLY CATALOG SUBJECT REFERENCE SYSTEM

This complete system contains the Index plus 106 full size reprint volumes of the Monthly Catalog, issued during the years 1895-1962—including the 30 volume “Classes Added” Edition (for 1895-1924) to which previously missing Superintendent of Documents Class Numbers were added under the supervision of Mary Elizabeth Poole. All reprint volumes are specially bound and marked for easiest use with the Cumulative Subject Index. Send for our free brochure on the Monthly Catalog Subject Reference System. It includes details of our unique offer of free “interim use” microfilm reels which can be used before (and after) complete sets of reprint volumes are delivered. Meanwhile, the Cumulative Subject Index may also be purchased in the Combined Reference Edition which, as explained on the coupon, includes the complete Monthly Catalog on Microfilm.

COST EFFECTIVE?

The complete 15 volume Cumulative Index set contains more than 13,000 two column pages (8½" x 11"). At a rate of 140 lines per page, and an average of approximately 1.7 entries per line, the total number of individual index citations is in the neighborhood of 3 million (or more than 2.5 citations per publication). This means that, at our current price of $1,160 for the set, libraries will be acquiring cumulative subject citations at a rate of less than 39 cents per thousand!

Thus, for about one fourth the annual salary of an untrained “minimum wage” clerical worker, your library can cut down substantially on the amount of redundant search time carried out by high-salaried professional staff—and repeat that savings year after year.

20th Century U.S. Government Publications

SUBJECT INDEX TO THE MONTHLY CATALOG OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS 1900-1971

"In this ambitious new library tool, cumulative access is brought for the first time to the overwhelming majority of United States Government publications issued during the period 1900-1971. In this, it is an accomplishment unrivaled in size and scope. Documents librarians will find it a new and convenient time-saver and one which should offer them an additional means of providing an expanded Government publications service to their patrons."

from the Foreword by Carper W. Buckley
U.S. Superintendent of Documents, 1952-1970

The unique new CUMULATIVE SUBJECT INDEX will eliminate 34 search steps which were formerly necessary to trace subjects through these indexes to 20th Century U.S. Government publications:

- 21 Biennial Document Catalogs (1900-1940),
- 2 Decennial Indexes (1941-1960), and
- 11 Annual Indexes (1961-1971).

All subject entries in the fifteen volume cumulative index were accumulated from 81 separate sources in the Monthly Catalog series and merged into one reference set. These sources include: 48 Annual Indexes to the Monthly Catalog, 2 Decennial Indexes, (1941-1950; 1951-1960), 1 Six-month Index, and 30 Monthly Catalogs for which no annual indexes were made.

From reviews of the first edition:

"We cannot think of a single library, from the largest to the smallest, that will not profit from its constant use."

—A.B. Bookman's Weekly

"The quality of the titles selected in every class is very high... the scope of the list is engaging... The compilers and their consultants are to be congratulated."

—Library Journal

6 volumes • almost 40,000 titles • over 2,000 pages
BOOKS FOR COLLEGE LIBRARIES
SECOND EDITION

Compiled by the Association of College and Research Libraries, a division of ALA, with the support of the Council on Library Resources.

Six handsome paperbound volumes:

1. Humanities, 2. Language and Literature, 3. History, 4. Social Sciences, 5. Psychology, Science, Technology, and Bibliography, 6. Author, Title, and Subject Indexes

For this Second Edition, nearly 40,000 titles—four-fifths of those recommended by the 1959 ALA standards as the minimum for a four-year undergraduate library—have been selected and evaluated by subject specialists. Selections have been made from titles in the first edition and from works published between 1964 and 1972. An even greater breadth of sources has been used than before and even more stringent criteria have been applied to selections for this core collection.

Cataloging and classification information has been expanded. Titles are arranged according to Library of Congress classification and are entered in the main catalog only once. Each entry is a virtually complete MARC record: author, title, edition, imprint, collation, subject and other added entries, classification number, LC card number, and ISBN.
