ACRL Remains Largest Division

The Association of College and Research Libraries has maintained its position as the largest division of the American Library Association. According to final membership statistics released September 30, 1975, ACRL has 9,390 members, 7,131 of these being personal members and 2,259 being organizational members.

The American Association of School Librarians is the second largest division with 7,384 members. The Resources and Technical Services Division, 6,534 members, and the Reference and Adult Services Division, 6,268 members, ranked third and fourth among the thirteen divisions. During 1975 ACRL launched a membership promotion campaign which resulted in 1,326 new members joining ACRL.

Membership in ACRL costs $15.00 in addition to the $35.00 membership fee for the ALA. Materials describing ACRL, its program, and perquisites of membership are available from the ACRL Office, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611. ■■
