NOTICES

• The African Newspaper Index, a new reference source which identifies articles that appear in major newspapers in four African countries, is now available from Current Documents and Information. Volume I (January–June 1981) is now available and Volume II (July–December 1981) should be available in March. Copies may be obtained for $17.25 (tax and postage included) from Current Documents and Information, P.O. Box 1134, Langley Park, MD 20787.

• Bibliometrics, the Summer 1981 issue of Library Trends edited by William Gray Potter, contains 9 articles on the study and measurement of the publication patterns of all forms of written communication and their authors. The issue is available for $5 from the University of Illinois Press, Urbana, IL 61801.

• Catalog of the Dr. and Mrs. M. David Orrahood Collection in the Library Learning Center, Kentucky Wesleyan College, compiled by Richard A. Weiss and Dan M. King (1981), describes the special collection of books dating from 1670 to 1940 donated by a prominent Owensboro pathologist and his wife. Included are over 240 first editions, many inscribed presentation copies, and numerous other autographed works. Copies are available in limited quantities for $10 from the Library Learning Center, Kentucky Wesleyan College, 3000 Frederica, Owensboro, KY 42301.

• Cataloging Service Bulletin Index, issues 1–12 (Summer 1978–Spring 1981) is now available for $5 from Nancy B. Olson, Box 863, Lake Crystal, MN 56055. Some copies of her index to bulletins 1–125 (June 1945–Spring 1978) are still available from her at a cost of $7.50.

• Changing Patterns in Internal Communication in Large Academic Libraries, OMS Occasional Paper #6 (21 pages, July 1981), analyzes the ways in which some Association of Research Library (ARL) members have studied their internal communication needs, formulated recommendations for change, and implemented those recommendations. An appendix offers library managers practical suggestions for improving internal communication. ARL members automatically receive two copies of the paper, while subscribers to SPEC and members of AALS each receive one copy. Additional copies may be obtained for $8 plus a $2 per order handling charge (prepaid only) from the SPEC Center, ARL Office of Management Studies, 1527 New Hampshire Ave., N.W., Washington, DC 20036.

• Collection Development and Management at Cornell, by J. Gormley Miller (132 pages, April 1981), is a concluding report on activities of the Cornell University Libraries' Project for Collection Development and Management, July 1979–June 1980, with proposals for future planning. The report may be useful to other large research libraries who are planning a collection development program. Copies of the report are available upon application from the Librarian's Office, 201 Olin Library, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY 14853.

• Directory of Curriculum Centers, compiled by Lois J. Lehman and Eva L. Kiewitt (200 pages, 1981), includes a contact person, center address, and summary of the holdings and services of each of the 189 curriculum centers that responded to a questionnaire sent out by the Curriculum Materials Committee of ACRL's Education and Behavioral Sciences Section. The catalog lists 189 doctoral dissertations with complete bibliographic detail. Copies are available for $8.50 each from: Publications, South Asia Regional Studies, 820 Williams Hall/CU, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PA 19104.

Amerindiana

The State Historical Society of Wisconsin is compiling a union list and index of Native American periodicals and newspapers based on the large collections at the Society as well as the campus libraries of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, public libraries throughout Wisconsin, and specialized collections in the U.S. and Canada. Maureen Hady, project librarian, and Florita Louie de Irizarry, research assistant, are the compilers of the list, and James P. Danky, the Society's newspapers and periodicals librarian, is the editor.

An additional feature of the published volume, scheduled for sometime in 1983, will be a complete name and subject index to Native American titles published in Wisconsin and selected areas of North America.

Librarians and others wishing more information about the project or wanting to contribute their own holdings, should contact James P. Danky or Maureen Hady, Room 225, State Historical Society of Wisconsin, 816 State Street, Madison, WI 53706; (608) 262-9584.
