

Eastern Association, Gaskill was active in research and teaching. In 1934 she instituted a course in Chinese history at Cornell, and later helped to obtain a grant for a full-time professor in that discipline.

MILDRED L. IDDINS, librarian emeritus of Carson-Newman College, Jefferson City, Tennessee, died March 24 after an extended illness. Iddins was librarian at Carson-Newman from 1944 to 1988, and oversaw the growth of the collection from 23,000 to 141,000 volumes. The department of special collections has been named in her honor, and a scholarship in her name has been established.

MARION SCHRADER, classics cataloger during the 1970s at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, died April 26. ■■

PUBLICATIONS

• Academic Year Abroad 1988/89, edited by Edrice Marguerite Howard (714 pages, 17th ed.), provides information on 1,656 programs of study abroad worldwide open to students, educators, professionals, and adult learners in the United States. In addition to academic year study-abroad programs offered by accredited U.S. colleges and universities, this new edition also includes a separate section on 404 programs sponsored by foreign universities, language schools and other organizations. Program information is arranged by country and city and includes dates, subjects, credit, eligibility, instruction, highlights, cost, housing, deadline, and contact person. Indexed by sponsoring institution and field of study. Copies may be ordered for $19.95 from the Institute of International Education, 809 United Nations Plaza, New York, NY 10017. ISBN 87206-155-8.

• A Directory of Vendors of Latin American Library Materials, by David Block and Howard L. Karno (3d ed., 48 pages), lists nearly 150 bookdealers who specialize in Latin Americana. Subject coverage, type of stock, address, telephone number, and office hours are given where known. Indexes arrange vendors by country of speciality and location. The cost is $13, plus $2 for postage and handling (prepayment required). The directory may be ordered from the SALALM Secretariat, 728 State Street, Madison, WI 53706. ISBN 0-917617-19-3.

• The Information Profession: Facing Future Challenges (163 pages, 1988) contains the papers presented at the Special Libraries Association's State-of-the-Art Institute, November 4-6, 1987, in Washington, D.C. Included are presentations by Toni Carbo Bearman, on the "Status of the Profession"; Pat Molholt on "The Influence of Technology on Librarianship"; Thomas T. Surprenant on "International Flow of Information"; Anne P. Mintz on "Information Malpractice"; and H.

Leonard Fisher on "Speculations on the Special Library of 2010." Copies may be ordered for $25 from SLA, 1700 Eighteenth St., N.W., Washington, DC 20009. ISBN 0-87111-334-1.

• Library and Information Sources on Women: A Guide to Collections in the Greater New York Area, compiled by the Women's Resources Group of ACRL's Greater New York Metropolitan Area Chapter and the CUNY Center for the Study of Women and Society (254 pages, March 1988), describes collections on women in the five boroughs of New York City, on Long Island, in Westchester County, and in eastern New Jersey. Each entry contains a brief description of the materials, broken down by format: monographs, serials, documents, reprints, clippings, audiotapes, videotapes, slides, pamphlets, films, and kits. Local, ethnic, and subject-oriented collections are included, and a subject index provides access to individual topics. Copies may be ordered for $12.95 from the Feminist Press at the City University of New York, 311 E. 94th Street, New York, NY 10128; (212) 360-5790. ISBN 0-935312-88-9.

• Monitoring the Competition: Find Out What's Really Going on Over There, by Leonard M. Fuld (204 pages, 1988), is a sequel to the author's Competitor Intelligence: How to Get It—How to Use It (Wiley, 1985). As in the first book, libraries of all types get much credit for the materials and services they provide. Fuld insists that corporate libraries not be relegated to organizational backwaters because they are "intelligence goldmines" that should store and maintain critical competitor information that often gets lost elsewhere. The book is an intriguing look at how (and how not) to get the goods on the other guy using techniques that are quite often the province of the professional librarian. Copies are available for $25.95 from John Wiley & Sons, 605 Third Ave., New York, NY 10158-0012. ISBN 0-471-85261-9.

WORLD FILM DIRECTORS

100 Years of Screen Magic

From the silent classics of F.W. Murnau to the screen wizardry of Steven Spielberg, people the world over have been entranced by the magic of film and the magicians who conjure those images — the directors. Now, John Wakeman has created World Film Directors — a new, two-volume biographical dictionary on the lives and works of 419 of the world's most outstanding film directors.

Profiles of the World's Great Directors

Volume 1 offers 200 essays on directors born before 1920 and working in the field before 1950, including the pioneers of cinema, silent film greats, specialists in expressionist film, poetic realism, the Western, screwball comedy, film noir, as well as a number of experimental filmmakers. Directors include: Luis Bunuel Sergei Eisenstein Robert J. Flaherty D.W. Griffith Alfred Hitchcock John Huston Fritz Lang Yasujiro Ozu Roberto Rossellini Jean Vigo and 190 more.

Volume 2 profiles 219 directors whose films brought them to prominence after 1950, reflecting developments in Eastern European and Third World cinema, as well as the U.S., Asia, and Latin America. Filmmakers include: Michelangelo Antonioni

DW Griffith

Ousmane Sembene

Ingmar Bergman Francois Truffaut Peter Weir R.W. Fassbinder Federico Fellini King Hu Ousmane Sembene Satyajit Ray and 210 more.

Convenient and Easy-to-Use

Arranged alphabetically, the entries in World Film Directors provide a 1500-8000 word essay on each director and offer:

- A summary of the director's films.
- Early development and influences, including that of other directors.
- Views of major critics, film scholars and reviewers.
- Discussion of major films.
- Information on casting and production details of major films.
- A complete filmography of the director.

- A bibliography of books and articles about the director.
- A list of the directors' published screenplays.

• A New Path: Undergraduate Libraries at United States and Canadian Universities, 1949-1987, by Roland Person (183 pages, April 1988), is a comprehensive description and analysis of the role of undergraduate libraries in the modern university and the goals upon which they were founded and continue to operate. Person, assistant undergraduate librarian at Southern Illinois University, presents data on why some undergraduate libraries have failed and why others have succeeded. Copies may be ordered for $29.95 from Greenwood Press, 88 Post Road West, Box 5007, Westport, CT 06881. ISBN 0-313-25303-X.

• United States Government Publications Catalogs, by Steven D. Zink (312 pages, 2d ed., 1988), contains more than 370 catalogs, bibliographies, and publications lists that may prove useful in locating documents produced by federal governmental agencies. New to this edition are a title index, an expanded subject index, and lengthier annotations. The emphasis is on currently available catalogs or serials; consequently no date is given indicating when particular items were first published. The cost is $20, from the Special Libraries Association, 1700 Eighteenth St., N.W., Washington, DC 20009. ISBN 0-87111-335-X.

• Yearbook of American Universities and Colleges: Academic Year 1986-1987, edited by George Thomas Kurian (653 pages, May 1988), reviews the major topics in higher education for the past year. Of major interest are the essay on "Historically Black Colleges" by Reginald Wilson, a statistical section, and case summaries of major court decisions affecting colleges and universities in 1986. The cost is $60. Contact Garland Publishing, 136 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10016. ISBN 0-8240-7942-6.

Deadlines: Orders for regular classified advertisements must reach the ACRL office on or before the second of the month preceding publication of the issue (e.g. September 2 for the October issue). If the second falls on a weekend, the deadline is the following Monday. Late job listings will be accepted on a space-available basis after the second of the month.

Rates: Classified advertisements are $5.00 per line for ACRL members, $6.25 for others. Late job notices are $12.00 per line for members, $14.00 for others. Organizations submitting ads will be charged according to their membership status.

Telephone: All telephone orders should be confirmed by a written order mailed to ACRL headquarters as soon as possible. Orders should be accompanied by a typewritten copy of the ad to be used in proofreading. An additional $10 will be charged for ads taken over the phone (except late job notices or display ads).

Guidelines: For ads which list an application deadline, that date must be no sooner than the 20th day of the month in which the notice appears (e.g., October 20 for the October issue). All job announcements should include a salary figure. Job announcements will be edited to exclude discriminatory references. Applicants should be aware that the terms faculty rank and status vary in meaning among institutions.

JOBLINE: Call (312) 944-6795 for late-breaking job ads for academic and research library positions. A pre-recorded summary of positions listed with the service is revised weekly; each Friday a new tape includes all ads received by 1:00 p.m. the previous day. Each listing submitted will be carried on the recording for two weeks. The charge for each two-week listing is $30 for ACRL members and $35 for non-members.

Fast Job Listing Service: A special newsletter for those actively seeking positions. This service lists job postings received at ACRL headquarters four weeks before they appear in C&RL News, as well as ads which, because of narrow deadlines, will not appear in C&RL News. The cost of a six-month subscription is $10 for ACRL members and $15 for non-members.
