Malcolm H. Forbes, University of Evansville vice-president for academic affairs, has announced the appointment of DONALD W. LACOCK as dean of learning resources.

A native of Iowa City, Iowa, Lacock attended the University of Dubuque in 1949. After spending time in the U.S. Air Force, he returned to college in 1960. He received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Iowa. In 1971, Lacock received his Doctor of Education degree from the University of Nebraska, and in 1977 he received a second master's degree in library science from the University of Wisconsin.

Lacock comes to UE from the University of Wisconsin—Stevens Point, where he taught courses in two-dimensional design, elementary art methods, and basic audiovisual techniques. He also served as instructional development coordinator at the University of Wisconsin.

Publications by Lacock include "Visual Literacy and the Library Media Learning Resource Center," Wisconsin Library Bulletin, July/August, 1976. He was the illustrator for A Basic Course in Manual Communication published by the National Association of the Deaf, Washington, D.C.

Lacock has also designed and produced a multimedia program entitled "A Visual Literacy Experience." This program consists of 160 slides, a 32-page booklet, audience participation sheets, and a programmed audio tape. Other slide-tape presentations of similar nature are "Body Talk," "Computers, Then and Now," and materials for gifted education entitled "Naturally Gifted."

Since 1971, Lacock has served as chancellor's representative to the Wisconsin System Media Council for the development and sharing of newer trends in media development, production, and utilization. He has also given numerous presentations at association meetings and workshops throughout the nation.

JEAN A. MAJOR has been named director of libraries at Northern Illinois University, effective September 1. Before coming to Northern Illinois, Major was a doctoral student in the Graduate Library School of Indiana University and was admitted to candidacy in August 1978. She has held appointments in several other academic libraries, including the position of head of undergraduate libraries at Ohio State University Libraries, Columbus. He has worked as a cataloger and serials librarian and has taught both library science and management.

For the past three years he has been coordinator of the Academic Library Development Program, a project he designed for the Council on Library Resources in association with Duane Webster.

NEH Grant to Memphis State

The Special Collections Department of the Memphis State University Libraries has received a grant of $40,000 from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The grant will fund a two-year project of cataloging the unprocessed manuscript collections held by the department. Eleanor McKay, curator of the Special Collections Department, is also directing a survey of pre-1930 historical buildings in West Tennessee. Funds from the Tennessee Historical Commission were used in the initial survey of Haywood County.

AACR 2

The British Library, the National Library of Canada, and the Library of Congress have announced their decision to defer for one year implementation of the Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, Second Edition until January 1981. This decision was made in response to requests from libraries needing additional time for preparation prior to the adoption of the new cataloging code. The second edition of the code will be published in November 1978.
