How to find out if your own work is also someone else's.

"At last!"

"At last!"

Some 220,000 doctoral dissertations have been published in this country and Canada during the past 30 years.

This year, an additional 22,000 are expected.

With our centralized store of data on this work, you can prevent your original research from turning out to be unnecessary duplication.

153,000 doctoral dissertations are already on microfilm in our files.

And every year, dissertations from hundreds of universities are added.

Then, key words from the title of each one are programmed into our DATRIX computerized retrieval system. So if you give us the key words that interest you, we can give you a list of all the titles they appear in. (In just a few working days, for example, we can supply you with anything from one title containing "styryltrimethylammonium" to 21,427 with "study".)

In addition, DATRIX will show you where to find an abstract of each of these dd's in Dissertation Abstracts, which we publish monthly.

And if you want the dissertations themselves, DATRIX also tells you what it will cost for microfilm or xerographic copies.

You can then get the copies from us for as little as $3 apiece.

And have other researchers' work lead you to the information you need to finish yours sooner. Or to avoid starting it.

A lot of colleges are buying library books when they should be buying libraries.

When you order your books through the Xerox College Library Program, all you do to set up your library is unpack it.

We can send you the complete 2,000-volume Choice Opening Day Collection*, along with 4,500 enrichment titles (including Choice's Outstanding Academic Books and 500 out-of-print titles from the ALA booklist, Books for College Libraries).

By ordering your library from us, you save yourself the time and trouble of going through hundreds of catalogs and booklists. And you save your college the expense of having thousands of orders typed up and mailed out.

Every book is listed in one annotated catalog. All of them—or as few as 100—can be had with one order.

And every book comes fully cataloged and processed to LC standards.

If you're about to start a new college library—or add to an existing one—write for the free Xerox College Library Program Catalog.

Then, you'll be able to stop buying your library book by book. And start buying your books by the library.

INTRODUCING

Programs-In-Progress Encyclopedia

Edited by James Ruffner

Through identification and description of action-oriented groups, Programs-in-Progress Encyclopedia (PIPE) will provide the answers to basic questions on thousands of subjects of high current interest.

On a continuing basis, PIPE will bring detailed information to librarians and researchers concerning the goals, scope, and leadership of special, limited-term federal, state and local government committees and commissions functioning outside normal governmental structures; intra-organizational task forces assigned to conduct studies and make recommendations to business, industry, education, labor unions, foundations, etc.; and citizen-action programs aimed at dealing with the crucial social, economic, political, cultural, and technological problems of our time.

A few of the more than 275 programs included in the first issue are:

BOMEX

Civil Rights Documentation Project
Emergency Committee on Gun Control
Friendship Acres
Harlem Cultural Council
Legal Services Program
Model Cities Program

Offender Rehabilitation Project
Project Plowshare
Smarteens
Urban Language Study
Women's Talent Corps
World Order Models Project
Youth Opportunities Unlimited

For the most part listings will be limited to timely activities of national scope and to the more highly innovative state and local programs. Each entry will cover such useful points as: (1) Name and address of organization; (2) Director, secretary, and number of members; (3) Objectives and programs; (4) Special services; (5) Publications; (6) Data on recurring meetings, conferences, and special programs, with notes on who is eligible to attend; and (7) Names of sources of support and affiliated groups. Arranged alphabetically, the entries run the gamut from air pollution to zoology.

Programs-In-Progress Encyclopedia will be published quarterly, with some 1,200 or more listings per yearly volume.

Alphabetical and keyword indexes in each issue cumulate throughout the year.

Annual subscription price of $25.00 includes a loose-leaf binder for quick, easy storage.
