

ACRL Seeks Volunteers for Offices and Committees

Would you like to run for an ACRL office or volunteer for appointment to an ACRL standing committee? Are you interested in seeking office in an ACRL section or being considered for appointment to a section committee? If the answer is yes to either of these questions, here's how to proceed.

ACRL PRESIDENT

The ACRL Appointments and Nominations Committee will nominate candidates for the office of ACRL vice-president/president-elect at the February 1981 Midwinter meeting of ALA. The election for this office will be held in the spring of 1982. The winner of the election will serve as vice-president/president-elect during 1982-83 and as president of ACRL during 1983-84. If you wish to be considered for nomination to this office or if you would like to submit names for consideration, contact the chair of the Appointments and Nominations Committee, Keith M. Cottam, 1211 General MacArthur Dr., Brentwood, TN 37027.

ACRL COMMITTEES

ACRL has eighteen standing and ad hoc committees: Academic or Research Librarian of the Year Award Committee, Academic Status Committee, Appointments and Nominations Committee, Audiovisual Committee, Budget and Finance Committee, Chapters Committee, Conference Program Planning Committee, Constitution and Bylaws Committee, Continuing Education Committee, Copyright Committee (ad hoc), Legislation Committee, Membership Committee, National Conference Committee, Planning Committee, Publications Committee, Standards and Accreditation Committee, Standards and Accreditation Committee—Standards for College Libraries Revision Subcommittee (ad hoc), and Supplemental Funds Committee. To learn about the areas of responsibility covered by these committees, see the ALA Handbook of Organization, 1980-81.

When scheduled vacancies occur on ACRL standing committees, the Appointments and Nominations Committee recommends to the president-elect of ACRL the names of members who might fill the vacancies. The president-elect makes the final appointments. If you are interested in being considered for appointment to an ACRL committee, you should complete the ACRL Committee Volunteer Form that is included in this issue of C&RL News and mail it to Keith M. Cottam, chair of the Appointments and Nominations Committee, before January 1, 1981.

ACRL SECTION OFFICES

ACRL has thirteen sections (their names are listed later in this article). You will find a description of their areas of responsibility in the ALA Handbook of Organization. Each section has an executive committee and a nominating committee. The nominating committee nominates persons to run for the elective offices of the section. The major offices of a section are the chair and vice-chair/chair-elect. Some sections also elect secretaries and members-at-large to the section executive committee. If you would like to run for the office of vice-chair/chair-elect of a section or for secretary or member-at-large, contact the chair or a member of the appropriate section nominating committee (see "People to Contact," below), before January 1, 1981.

ACRL SECTION COMMITTEES

The committees of ACRL sections offer a variety of opportunities for service to the division. The Community and Junior College Libraries Section alone has ten committees. For a complete listing of ACRL section committees, see the ALA Handbook of Organization.

The chair-elect of a section appoints the chair and members of all section committees when scheduled vacancies on these committees occur. If you would like to be considered for appointment as chair or member of a section committee, fill out the ACRL Committee Volunteer Form and mail it to the chair-elect of the appropriate section (see "People to Contact," below) before January 1, 1981.

EDITORIAL BOARDS

ACRL has five editorial boards: the Choice Editorial Board, the College & Research Libraries Editorial Board, the College & Research Libraries News Editorial Board, the Nonprint Media Publications Editorial Board, and the Publications in Librarianship Editorial Board. When a vacancy occurs on an editorial board, the editor recommends the name of a person to fill the vacancy. The Publications Committee must approve the recommendation. The ACRL board must give its approval, and finally the president of ACRL makes the appointment.

If you would like to be considered for appointment to an editorial board, contact the editor of the publication (see "People to Contact," below).

Remember that at any given time there are only a limited number of vacancies on ACRL's committees, sections, and boards. If at once you don't succeed in obtaining an appointment, try again. Make yourself known to committee chairs by sitting in on meetings, volunteering to help with committee projects, etc. If committee chairs see that you are interested in the work of their committees, they may recommend your name to the appropriate appointing body when a vacancy occurs.

LIPPINCOTT AWARD

Nominations are now being accepted for the Joseph W. Lippincott award, an annual award of $1,000 and a citation of achievement made to a librarian for distinguished service to the profession. Established in 1937, the award is donated by Joseph W. Lippincott, Jr., in memory of his father, and is administered by the ALA Awards Committee.

ACRL members are encouraged to nominate worthy colleagues for this award who have distinguished themselves through outstanding participation in the activities of professional library associations, notable published professional writing, and other significant activity on behalf of the profession and its aims.

The 1980-81 chair of the Lippincott Award is Wyman Jones, Los Angeles Public Library, 361 S. Anderson, Los Angeles, CA 90033. The deadline for nomination is January 15, 1981. For more information and nomination forms, contact Ann Cunniff, Awards Committee Staff Liaison, American Library Association, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611. ■■
