

ANSWER TO CLINICAL PATHOLOGY CASE OF WINTER 2010

Urol J. 2010;7:128. www.uj.unrc.ir

There was residual tumor recurrence in the right pelvic fossa. Patient underwent pelvic exploration and some sites of metastasis that were probably due to spillage in previous surgery were removed. Alfa-fetoprotein and BHCG were normal 4 years post operation.